Yvon Martinet ☐ +33 1 53 43 22 20 ☐ Savin Martinet Associés (Paris)

Yvon is a founding partner of the law office of Savin Martinet Associés. He is primarily responsible for aspects of the firm's civil, criminal and administrative litigation cases. He has handled Council of State and Appeals Court cases for law firms; worked as an associate for Cabinet Bredin Prat; and served as a secretary for the Conférence du Stage des Avocats de Paris (First Secretary 1991), where he represented the winners of the moot court competition. He was a foreign Intern with the Skadden Arps law firm in New York and a partner in charge of litigation activities for Moquet Borde & Associés and De Pardieu, Brocas, Maffei & Leygonie law offices. His experience has given him a cross-disciplinary approach to legal issues and helped him build a recognised business litigation practice in national and international law, and industrial risks.

Yvon is a former member of the International Bar Association (IBA), council member of the French delegation to the Council of the Bars and Law Societies of Europe (CCBE) 1998-2004 and of the Conseil National des Barreaux (CNB) (National Council of Bar Associations) 2000-02.

He regularly writes instalments for Editions Lamy's 'Guide to Annotated Civil Proceedings Forms', a top reference for practising civil and commercial litigators, and takes part in seminars on the same topics. He also writes articles on food and hazardous waste and products transportation law, notably for the 'Revue Options Qualité'.

A graduate of an executive MBA (HEC, Paris) and an IFEJI expert (French Institute of International Law Experts), Yvon has been a member of the Paris Bar Association since 1989 and of the Brussels Bar Association since 1997. He holds a DEA degree in private law from Paris I University (Pantheon-Sorbonne) and completed an LLM course (1992-93) as a Special Student (Sp St) at Columbia Law School in New York.

Dr Patricia Savin ☐ +33 1 53 43 22 20 ☐ Savin Martinet Associés (Paris)

Patricia is managing partner and a founding partner of the law office of Savin Martinet Associés. She is primarily responsible for environmental cases, notably in the fields of pollution, nuisances, the food industry, real estate and mines and quarries. She served as an intern at the Huglo Lepage firm and as an associate responsible for environmental cases at Moquet Borde & Associés and De Pardieu, Brocas, Maffei & Leygonie law offices. Her experience has given her solid knowledge and practice of industrial and real property environmental law and, more generally, industrial risks.

Patricia was a member of the Ministry of Ecology and Sustainable Development Legal Committee responsible for incorporating environmental law into the Constitution. She is also a member of the Association Nationale des Docteurs en Droit (ANDD), a French national association for doctors in law, and of the Société Française pour le Droit de l'Environnement (SFDE), a French environmental law society. Patricia chaired the biotechnologies sub-committee of the Paris Bar Association for four years, and was honorary president of the Union des Jeunes Avocats de Paris.

A member of the Paris Bar Association since 1995 and of the Brussels Bar Association since 2004, Patricia is a doctor of private law (PhD - 'The Effectiveness of Laws to Deter Pollution and Nuisances'). She holds a DEA degree in environmental law from the Environmental Law Institute - Lyon III, and is a graduate of the Paris Bar Association's Institute of Public Business Law (IDPA).

Patricia has conducted many criminal and environmental law workshops, participated in several public debates and regularly writes articles on environmental law. She also co-authored the book 'Les Plantes transgéniques face au droit'.
