

Seventure Investment in Polaris

Brittany-based POLARIS has raised €6 million from Seventure Partners.

Polaris is a global leading expert in nutritional lipids. Since 1994, it has developed and implemented several innovations towards improving quality, stability and formulation of marine omega-3 and other high value nutritional oils. Its patent-protected Quality Silver® labeled oils are used in the most sought-after products for any application: dietary supplements, functional foods, cosmetic, etc.

Sagax assisted the management of POLARIS in this transaction, with Luc Hardy – president leading team, he commented: The company has exceptional growth potential, as they develop and market ingredients which make people feel better and live longer. "

Savin Martinet Associes conducted due diligence on the target company. Arnaud Constant led the team, bringing a sense of communication to the deal table. ACQ

"The company has exceptional growth potential, as they develop and market ingredients which make people feel better and live longer."
